ANLP visionary

Karen Falconer
CEO of ANLP

My dream is for NLP to be more widely recognised as a solution for many of the everyday challenges facing people in today's society.

As a social enterprise, we are here to serve the NLP Community using the ANLP supportive leadership model as our foundation.

NLP has something of incredible value to offer in personal, organisational and educational development, as well as clinical therapy.

Our independence ensures we promote our members and work on their behalf.

Which membership level works best for you?

We have developed a range of membership levels designed to cater for all, so irrespective of where and who you trained with, there is a membership level to suit you.

Simply select the membership level that best fits your requirements and join.

Associate Member

Associate members may have a requirement to be a member of their professional body, but do not need an online profile.

Professional Member

If you hold an NLP Practitioner certificate, or above*, and are actively seeking to promote your services as an NLP Professional, then this is the membership level to select.

Trainer Member

Select this level if you hold an NLP Trainer certificate and wish to promote your services as a trainer.

What others say about us...

I am so grateful to ANLP for the guidance, professional representation and community they provide; it felt like I wanted to use the valuable tools they have worked hard to provide. Thanks so much to all the team at ANLP.

Reb Veale

Being a member of ANLP has offered me an opportunity to be part of an international community of NLP professionals who are always willing to support me in various initiatives. I'm truly grateful for the support and guidance I have received in my NLP career journey.

Thabiso Mailula

Our congratulations to ANLP for winning the UK Enterprise Award for Best UK Community Interest Company for 2020. CICs are non-profit organizations whose mission is to serve the community. To us, what ANLP provides is a powerful demonstration of the importance of this mission. The award was given by SME News, a publication which serves small to medium sized enterprises. We were particularly struck by the criteria used to determine the winner: "client dedication, innovation, business growth, longevity, online reputation, customer feedback and business performance." Excellence in all of these certainly fits our perception of ANLP. Thank you and well done.

Robert Dilts & Ian McDermott

I have always found the ANLP to be such a supportive and inclusive organisation. To find such a large group of individuals who work with good intent at furthering the positive intentions of NLP is encouraging and reassuring. The ANLP has been instrumental in providing a professional base for NLP practitioners both here in the UK and globally.

Dave Woolley

It is so rare that a company these days upholds their values and goes above and beyond to serve a customer, in my case as a member. There are 3 things I love about the way ANLP work. You are honest and transparent (This I have seen from how you have managed the challenges of the NLP Conference 2020 and now 2021). You have integrity (by the way you resolved my membership query without me even asking) and you are a heart-based business (and this is made clear by your actions and the manner of your actions as a group through the last couple of years and how approachable you and your team are). You are very much appreciated and I just want to thank you again. Proud to be a member of ANLP with values like these! Thank you.

James Latimer

As a NLP Professional it is an honour to belong as a Trainer to the only totally independent International NLP Association that acts with inclusion, ethics and professionalism of excellence.

Rita Aleluia

I just want to say that, as far as professional associations go, ANLP is far and away the most compassionate, practical and client centred organisation I've ever had the pleasure to be a member of. They simply cannot do enough for their members and my loyalty is cast in stone.

International Conference

ANLP are custodians of the NLP Conference, which runs annually in the spring.

The conference is more than just a place to come and listen. It is a place where people can exchange ideas, discuss areas of collaboration and make new business and personal connections. Many long-standing friendships have been born during past conferences and it is our intention to encourage these feelings of camaraderie and bonhomie whilst giving delegates what they want to see and hear... how NLP is making a difference.
