

Further Details about the MA

Here's what Accredited Trainer students can achieve...

The three levels:

1. Post Graduate Certificate (PGC) (60 credits)
2. Post Graduate Diploma (PGD) (120 credits; 60 of which are from the Certificate level and 60 are just this level)
3. Masters' Degree (180 credits; 120 of which are from the Diploma level and 60 are just this level).

Students can choose how far in the MA program they want to go, for example, if they just want to do the PGC level at this point, they can do that; if at some time in the future they want to upgrade to the PGD or the Master's level, they can do that when they are ready.

Overview of gaining the qualifications:

There are several options to gain Certificate and Diploma qualifications. Both levels require students to attend some training and to do some written assignments. There are four possible courses that qualify for the qualification:

- NLP Practitioner *
- NLP Master Practitioner *
- Professional Coaching Skills (recognised by the International Coaching Federation (ICF)).
- Higher Professional Coaching Skills (ICF).

* There are only a few NLP courses that meet the University's standards. Please contact Neuro Minds Ltd on the link below to check.

P. G. Certificate level:

Students have three training options:

1. The two coaching courses (the coaching route)

2. The two NLP courses (the NLP route)
3. NLP Practitioner and Professional Coaching Skills (the combined route)

Students will also be required to do two written assignments (4,500 words each) related to the each course, plus some extra, smaller, written assignments.

P. G. Diploma level:

To gain the Diploma, students will need to have done two courses from one route, and one course from the other route. Therefore:

- | Certificate option | Diploma choice                  |
|--------------------|---------------------------------|
| 1. Coaching        | NLP Practitioner                |
| 2. NLP             | Professional Coaching Skills    |
| 3. Combined        | Either of the two choices above |

The combined Either HPCS or Master Prac

Students will also be required to do a module on research methods and a 7,500 word assignment relating to research.

Master's Level:
